

Faithful Farmwife

Self-Sufficiency though Homesteading, Homemaking, and Homeschooling

A Little About Me

I grew up in a household with a below-poverty-line income. My parents never let our lack of money cause us to go without, though. They taught me how to be resourceful, how to save money, and how to do things for myself.

I employ these skills in my life today with my own husband & 3 children. My goal is to raise a self-sufficient family through homesteading, homemaking, and homeschooling.

Our homestead consists of dairy goats, honeybees, horses, chickens, meat rabbits, and pigs. We also keep up a small garden for ourselves & a fodder system for our livestock.

About Faithful Farmwife

Faithful Farmwife started as a hobby blog where I would jot down my thoughts and share funny stories about my family. In April of 2016 I had a push from a successful vlogger to grow my blog into something much more than a public journal. Faithful Farmwife is now blossoming into a source of tutorials, recipes, money saving tips, inspiration, and encouragement for mamas who want to live a self-sufficient lifestyle.

Site Demographics

91 % Female
89% US Visitors
25-34 Years

Social Media + Pinterest

1,685

Email Subscriber List

608

Monthly Analytics

4,500+ Pageviews
2,600+ Users

*As of February 2017

Faithful Farmwife

Self-Sufficiency through Homesteading, Homemaking, and Homeschooling

Partnership Opportunities

My standard partnership rate is $250 which includes:

- 1 Original Blog Post
- 4 Social Media Shares- Facebook, Pinterest, Twitter, Instagram
- Repeated Pinterest Promotion

Add a YouTube video with product mentions or video review for an additional $50.

Contact me at jessica@faithfulfarmwife.com to discuss other opportunities to work with me such as product reviews, giveaways, and ad space.

Popular Posts & Products on Faithful Farmwife

- How to Safely Catch a Wild Bee Swarm
- How to Simplify & Organize Using Lists
- Our Transition from Public School to Homeschool
- How to Drain an Abscess on a Goat
- The Best Skillet Cornbread Recipe
- The Ultimate Guide for Homestead Mamas

